Published by

THE CLASS OF 1931
CENTRAL HIGH SCHOOL
Butte, Montana

FOREWORD

Four years have quickly passed, and we must soon leave the protecting walls of our Alma Mater. In future years the pages of this annual will bring back fond memories of high school days in "the little old school on the hill." May the remembrance of our years at old Central always be a consolation and encouragement to us.

DEDICATION

To our Mothers, who have been the guiding lights of our girlhood, and who will be the models of our womanhood, our Mothers whose greatest joy is our success and happiness; with a love they alone deserve, with a gratitude they alone merit, we, the seniors, in a spirit of undying appreciation dedicate the 1931 Centralite Annual.

CLASS HISTORY

Returning to school with unquenchable pep the "Jolly Juniors" started the year with a bang. In intellectual, social and athletic events they proved their worth.

That tireless go-getter, Mary Miller, won the annual subscription drive, turning in one hundred per cent from her class long before any of the other captains. Frances Moran showed her ability in the literary line by winning the Christmas Story Contest.

The third year girls gave the Prom this year with the co-operation of the Daughters of Isabella who sponsored a card party for their benefit. The Prom was as great a success as those given by the Central Juniors always are.

Several members of the class showed great promise in the journalistic line, winning places in the school creative writing contest.

The Juniors consider their third year a credit to the school and are looking forward to an even more successful senior year.

CLASS HISTORY

Returning in September, no longer "Green 'uns" but rather "Snappy Sophs", we have again completed a most successful year. Once more we were outstanding in intellectual, athletic and social activities.

By a good deal of co-operation we were again able to give one of our peppy classmates, Mary Coyne, the coveted title of "Miss Centralite". Mary received this by obtaining 10,900 votes.

In intellectual ability we likewise ranked high, always having a large number on the honor roll. A clever one-act play, "How the Story Grew", presented by our T. C. Club won applause from the entire school.

Members of our class took an active part in many of the school activities, including the Spanish Dramatic Club and the Operetta. Our commercial division walked away with attendance honors, having won the banner more times than any other class.

Altogether we can look back on our sophomore year with a feeling of pride in our accomplishments.

CLASS HISTORY

The Freshman class of this year was the largest since the school became an institution exclusively for girls. They placed the greatest number of students on the honor roll every quarter with Mary Rotar leading the school the first quarter and Gladys Gabrielson, the second and third quarters.

They took an active part in athletics, entering four teams in the interclass tournament, and displaying much ability in the gymnasium class. Cecelia Nankeville, a member of the class, placed in the ice carnival and won a bronze medal.

Catherine Coyne also one of the "green-uns" won the prize for selling the most operetta tickets.

On the whole the Freshies proved themselves a credit to the school, their teachers, parents, and fellow students and are looking forward to similar or even greater successes in their next three years.

ACTIVITIES

REVEREND J. A. ROONEY

THE RETREAT

This year the annual retreat, which was held December 5, 6, 7, was conducted by the Reverend J. A. Rooney, vice-president of Mount Saint Charles College. The retreat master and faculty were greatly pleased with the attitude of earnestness and sincerity displayed by the entire student body.

Every morning the students assembled in the study hall, where an altar was erected, to hear mass. Spiritual conferences, visits to the chapel, and recitation of the Rosary were the devotions for the remainder of the day. Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament concluded the services.

On the eighth of December, Feast of the Immaculate Conception, the students received Communion in a body. At the close of the retreat the girls dedicated themselves to the Blessed Virgin. Father Rooney then bestowed the papal blessing.

MME. MARIE M. LEIPHEIMER

THE OPERETTA

Under the able direction of Madame Marie M. Leipheimer, well-known vocal artist of this city, "The Witch of Fairy Dell", a light opera in three acts, was presented at the Butte High School Auditorium on March 10.

An immense crowd generously applauded the efforts of over one hundred girls who took part in the presentation.

The audience was charmed with the solos of the leading characters as well as the well-trained choruses. The beautiful costumes of the fairy and gypsy dancers called forth a great deal of favorable comment.

Rose Roe, Catherine Connolly, Catherine Shepperd, Kathleen Kearney, Collette Duchesneau, Helen Lavelle, Esther Connole, Margaret Lucy, Mae Mulholland, Bonnie Watson, Hazel Sullivan, Lois Sullivan, Helen O'Leary, Margaret Murray, Marie Mueller and Rose Lowney had the leading roles.

THE WITCH OF FAIRY DELL

Scene From Act I.

Here to the witch's tent come the village belles seeking to know if the good fortune of being chosen by the Countess is in store for them. When they have crossed her palm with gold, old Gypsy Madge, who picked up a little Latin and a lot of fun in her school days, promises that all their wishes will come true. A group of graceful gypsy dancers are shown here also.

FAIRY QUEEN AND ATTENDANTS

Scene From Act II.

This group of beautiful fairies dance at midnight on the village green and under the direction of the Fairy Queen and her attendants, they weave a magic spell which brings good fortune to Marguerite.

THE WITCH OF FAIRY DELL

Scene From Act III.

"The sun is now shining to welcome the day; with a heigh, ho, come to the fair." In this lively gathering may be seen groups of peasant girls, peanut vender, frankfurter seller, flower girl, Punch and Judy, the water cress girl and other characters. In this scene gay with lanterns, flowers, and many-colored balloons, comes the herald to warn the villagers to prepare for the coming of the Countess and her suite.

WELCOME, KIND LADY, WELCOME

Scene From Act III.

Magnificent in silk and ermine the Countess mingles with her subjects. The village belles flatter her, but she is attracted to Marguerite, a poor girl, whom she finds to be her long-lost child.

GLEE CLUB MEMBERS

THE GLEE CLUB

For the first time in several years there was only one Glee Club, composed of Seniors and Juniors. During the retreat several of the girls were selected from this organization to sing sacred hymns.

The Glee Club was in great demand at school as well as public entertainments, contributing several numbers both at the declamation and commencement programs. The girls also gave a Thanksgiving radio concert over KGIR and entertained many times during the year at meetings of the Daughters of Isabella. No school assembly was considered complete without a selection by the Glee Club.

The girls surely showed their excellent training and were a credit to their instructress, Madame Marie M. Leipheimer, who was tireless in her efforts to develop their singing talents.

ORCHESTRA MEMBERS

Front row: C. Hoare, bells; F. McDonald, F. Moran, M. Moran, M. Gallivan, M. O'Leary, mandolins; G. Sullivan, drums. Second row: P. Doonan, cello; M. McCarthy, A. Sheehy, B. Meade, violins; H. Barry, N. Rainville, piano; E. Sullivan, A. Nolan, violins; J. Shorette, bones. Third row: L. Lane, E. Smith, cornets; R. Shepperd, C. Meade, violins; M. Prendergast, saxophone; M. McGowan, violin; F. Gallivan, saxophone.

THE ORCHESTRA

The School Orchestra, under the direction of Professor F. O. Jackson, had a most successful year. Practice was held every Tuesday and Thursday.

Soon after its organization the following officers were elected: Monica Prendergast, president; Gloria Sullivan, vice-president; Audrey Sheehy, secretary; Loretta Lane, treasurer; and Helen Barry, librarian.

Besides entertaining at numerous school activities, including the operetta, the declamation contest, and the commencement exercises, the orchestra also played for the Daughters of Isabella, the plays given by the Saint Mary's and Saint Joseph's dramatic clubs, the concert at Saint James' Hospital, and the Women's Catholic Welfare Council.

This year's orchestra was the largest in the history of the school, being composed of twenty-two members.

MISS CENTRALITE

MARY COYNE

Mary Coyne, sophomore, was declared winner of the title "Miss Centralite" for the year 1930-1931 in the Centralite Subscription Drive which was held from September 30 to October 8. Mary secured 10,900 votes. She was presented with a monogramed sweater by the staff.

Others who took part in the drive were: Amelia Regan, Lucille Ryan, Mary Sullivan, Ellen Gaul, Julia O'Connell, Elsie McGrath and Dorothy Nevin. The winner and all contestants are to be complimented on their co-operation and display of sportsmanship.

WINNER OF ANNUAL DRIVE

In the drive conducted to secure subscriptions for the year book, Mary Miller, captain of the Junior classicals, secured 100 per cent from her class first. Her quota was turned in four hours after the drive started. A prize was awarded to Mary at a general assembly.

Mary has always been an ardent worker for the "Centralite", being defeated in her Freshman year by a slight margin for the title "Miss Centralite."

Elizabeth Coburn, business manager, very ably conducted the drive. She was assisted by the advertising managers and other staff members.

MARY MILLER

CHRISTMAS STORY WINNER

Frances Moran, a Junior, was the winner of the third annual Christmas story contest sponsored by the Centralite Staff. "The Trapper's Christmas" was the title of her story. It was a tale of the Christmas time in the icy Northlands and related how a little child brought happiness to the home of an aged trapper who had lost his only son.

The five best stories in each English class were entered in the contest, and the staff had a wealth of material from which to choose.

FRANCES MORAN

SENIOR FROLIC

RITA KELLEY

The K. C. gym was the scene of a lively affair when the girls' frolic was held there on the evening of April 17. The entertainment consisted of dancing and stunts given by the classes.

The prize for the best stunt went to the Freshmen, who presented "School Days." Rita Kelley a Freshman, won the prize for the best costume. She was garbed as "The Spirit of Spring."

The music was furnished by a special school orchestra. Refreshments were served at eleven o'clock. Those in attendance pronounced the frolic the best ever.

THE CHRISTMAS DRAMA

Principal Characters of "The Empty Room"

THE CHRISTMAS PLAY

With Christmas as the theme a delightful program was presented by members of the Public Speaking Class on December 23. "The Empty Room," a drama of the first Christmas, featured the program. The characters were: Hamar, June McKeown; Joanna, Marie King; Rebecca, Helen Lavelle; Mary, Kathleen Kearney; Nobleman, Rose Roe; First Voice, Marie McMillan; Second Voice, Mary Lee; Third Voice, Margaret Kendrigan; Servant, Dorothy O'Neil. The play was repeated on January 12 for the N. C. C. W. at the Immaculate Conception Hall.

The class also presented "The Misdemeanors of Nancy" for the Immaculate Conception sodality and "The Village Scare" for the Columbus day assembly, besides entertaining with numerous readings and speeches at the Washington and Lincoln Day programs and other celebrations.

THE CENTRALITE STAFF

THE CENTRALITE

In the past year the Centralite, the monthly school publication, made a name for itself among the high school newspapers of the country, winning third place in its class in the Columbia Scholastic Press Association contest, and first class rating in the National Scholastic Press Association contest.

In April fourteen members of the staff were initiated into the Quill and Scroll, international honorary society for high school journalists. This was a notable distinction because the most talented high school writers are included among the members of this society.

The Centralite was enlarged to five columns this year and included many new and interesting features. The members of the staff may truly look back on their journalistic achievements with pride.

EDITORIAL WINNER

In the editorial writing contest conducted in December by Quill and Scroll, Irene Harrington's editorial on "Armistic Day" won first place in Montana. Irene was also first place state winner in the National High School Awards with her editorial "Is It a Failure?"

IRENE HARRINGTON

The Significance of Armistice Day

November 11—Why does it mean so much to us? Why are we so enthusiastic at the anniversary of the end of the World war, when the closing dates of other great wars are almost erased from our memories?

To some, Armistice day is important because it marked the closing of the world's most modern war, but to me it is a day on which democracy triumphed over militarism; when the flag of equality among nations was again unfurled after four years of doubt; and when doughboys with fighting hearts conquered a self-seeking and confident army.

To those soldiers who were not physical and mental wrecks, that document, signed on November 11, meant freedom. Now once again they would see their mothers, wives, sweethearts and children. They would have a decent bed to sleep in, a roof over their heads, and they could rest without being disturbed by machine guns. Yes, they would make up for those long, dreary months of hardship in the trenches. They would shake off the disillusionment brought on by the ghastliness of war.

Armistice! Peace! How sweet those words sounded to their ears, deafened by the roar of cannon. No wonder they wept for joy!

Yes, life is sweet for those who survived the battle unmarred, but for thousands of ex-service men, our maimed and shell-shocked heroes, the war is not yet over. These men claim our gratitude and respect on Armistice day and all other days. Let us not intensify their suffering by our thoughtlessness and forgetfulness.

We owe our liberty, the safety of our homes and our country to the millions who died so valiantly and willingly during that great conflict, and to the thousands who are still suffering, because they dared to answer the challenge of autocracy.

Armistice day recalls to our minds the cruelty of war, the blessings of peace, the sacrifices of brave men. Its annual celebration is a trumpet call to us Americans to dedicate ourselves anew to the preservation and perpetuation of the peace so dearly won.

FEATURE WINNER

In the second Quill and Scroll contest, Mary Lee's feature, "Errors", placed sixth among the national winners.

ERRORS

MARY LEE

Usually it's my brain that won't work, but today even my hand refuses to do the things I want it to. Errors, errors, I never committed so many in the short space of 45 minutes.

I started to write a headline. The first line had 20 units and the second had just 10. Try as I may to cut them down, I couldn't do it. Perhaps, if I had George's little hatchet, I could do the chopping better. Well, the teacher wouldn't care for my choice of words in the headline anyway, and I don't care if she is going to teach at Central High. Already I have a "kink" in my neck, and my fingers are like grandma's before Sloan's liniment made its appearance on drug store shelves.

At this point I decided that headline writing wasn't my style, but current news looked rather easy. Everything went fine until I reached the seventh question—I never did like committees, and the Wickersham one—never heard of it! But as I knew something about the rest—except the "William Sprague Decision"—I decided to try my luck at that old Wickersham affair. I said it was a committee to look into the farce of making wicker baskets. I thought I was rather intelligent to analyze such a monstrous-looking word. When blonde Marie (not peroxide either), across the aisle, heard what I had said, she giggled and gurgled until I feared the poor thing would have convulsions. She wouldn't tell me what was the matter (she said it wouldn't be fair), but she would say, "Wickersham! Mary, use your thick skull; you're absolutely hopeless." Yes, Quill and Scroll contests, look what you've done to me.

Well, as for the feature writing, you can see for yourself my errors in that attempt; I don't know if the commas are placed right—I shook them in when I didn't have anything else to jot down. My grammar seems all right to me, but oh, good English judges and literary men, take pity on me—and I'm bound to improve. My brain is in a whirl from all the errors, I'm the laughing stock of the room, my manicured nails are gone to the four winds. Instead of black locks I'm now a duke's mixture of black and white. It's all because of you, Quill and Scroll! Why did this school ever get that charter?

KODAK CLUB

Front row: Warwick, Brouillette, N. Johnson. Second row: Ryan, O'Neil, Kelly, Rafferty. Third row: King, Lee, McKeown, Roe, K. Johnson, Mulholland, Coburn.

For the purpose of procuring snapshots for the annual, the Kodak Club was reorganized by the Seniors. Under the able direction of Rose Roe, Chief Klicker, and Marie King, Assistant Klicker, the members proved adept in the art of photography.

SPANISH DRAMATIC CLUB

"Las Espanoles Aspirantes," the Spanish Dramatic Club, was reorganized by the second year Spanish Class, for the purpose of giving the students more experience in speaking the Castillian language.

At the first meeting, which was held in February, the following officers were elected: Pauline Doonan, president; Dorothy O'Neil, vice-president; Mary McCarthy, treasurer; and Margaret Murray, secretary.

Meetings were held twice a month and were featured by Spanish plays, recitations, songs and dances.

CREATIVE WRITING

In preparation for the National Awards, the school sponsored a preliminary creative writing contest. The winning papers were entered in nine of the seventeen divisions of the national contest. These included essays, features, short stories, book reviews, art, poetry, editorials, current news, and science articles.

MAGAZINE REVIEW WINNERS

During the year magazine reviews were forwarded each week to the World News to be judged with articles submitted from the whole country. Central received nation-wide recognition when several girls of the senior class had their articles published. A cash award was given to each winner.

CLASS LEADERS

FIRST QUARTER

Catherine Connolly	Frances Moran	Lois Murphy	Mary Rotar
Senior	Junior	Sophomore	Freshman

The girls who capture the highest grades in their classes each quarter are to be congratulated. It is quite an achievement to reach the pinnacle when there are so many competitors for the honor. For the first quarter, Mary Rotar made the highest grade in the school, 97.5; for the second and third quarters Gladys Gabrielson with averages of 98.4 and 98 led the honor students.

SECOND QUARTER

Top row: Catherine Connolly, senior classical; Elizabeth Coburn, senior commercial; Helen Dennehy, junior commercial. Frances Moran, junior classical. Bottom row: Camille Maffei, sophomore commercial; Margaret McCarthy, sophomore classical; Mary Rotar, freshman commercial; and Gladys Gabrielson, freshman classical.

THE T. C. CLUB

The T. C. is a Sophomore club which was organized by the present Senior class during their Sophomore year. The purpose of the club is to improve the English of its members and enable them to become better acquainted with literature.

The meetings are featured by programs and social activities.

JUNIOR DRAMATIC CLUB

The Junior Dramatic Club, which is a long-standing and highly recognized organization at Central, has completed another successful year.

Among the most outstanding plays which were presented are "The Minister Comes to Tea" and "Quack, Quack."

The officers of the club are as follows: Director, Catherine Dougherty; assistants, Celestine Caron, Hazel Sullivan, Catherine Dwyer, Dorothy Gilmore and Mary Sullivan.

PUBLIC SPEAKING AND DECLAMATION

Marie King was selected as the school's extemporaneous speaker and represented Central in the district contest at Helena where she was awarded fourth place. Marie's subject was, "The Monroe Doctrine in Japan."

Rose Roe with the selection, "Flaming Youth," won first place in the school declamation contest. Marie King and Helen Lavelle were second and third respectively. Six girls selected in a preliminary contest participated. Rose represented the school in the state contest at Missoula.

This year the public speaking and declamation classes were very large, and the members furnished many entertaining programs for the student body.

THE JUNIOR PROM

The Junior promenade, more beautiful and successful than ever, was held on May 1. The many colored dresses of the girls, the dark suits of the boys, the splendid decorations, and the delightful music of the orchestra made the scene one not soon to be forgotten. .

The members of the committee are to be congratulated on the efficient manner in which they carried out all arrangements.

LIBRARIANS

Central's library ranks among the best, meeting as it does, the state requirements for high school libraries. This year new sets of scientific volumes, over a hundred books of fiction, and several reference works were purchased. Many fine books have been donated by the principal and other friends of the school.

QUILL AND SCROLL SOCIETY

Early in April fourteen members of the Centralite staff were initiated into Quill and Scroll, honorary journalistic society. The students qualified for this honor by excellent work in writing and business management.

At the initiation each new member was presented with a pin bearing the official insignia of Quill and Scroll.

SCIENCE SERVICE CLUB

Kathryn Dwyer was elected president and Rose McNulty secretary of the Science Service Club which was organized this year. Other members are M. Mueller, A. Cassidy, C. Hoare, M. Moran, C, Shepperd, and M. Ryan.

The care and arrangement of lab equipment and the preparation of a lab guide were some of the services of this group.

CHAMPION AD TEAM

These three girls were the first to secure the allotted amount of advertising for the Annual in the ad campaign conducted by the staff.

They were given a treat by the group which collected the lowest amount. The Seniors were divided off into teams of three and assigned a certain quota.

F. O. JACKSON

ORCHESTRA DIRECTOR

Though Professor Jackson has been directing the Central orchestra for only a little more than a year, it has made wonderful progress in that time. He is both a musical artist and skillful teacher, and he has succeeded in imparting some of his artistry to the orchestra.

His musicians were in constant demand during the year for public as well as private performances, and their playing always called forth hearty commendation and reflected great credit on the director.

ESSAY WRITERS

In the chemistry contest sponsored by the American Chemical Society, Catherine Connolly was awarded second place in the state. The title of her essay was "Chemistry and Public Sanitation." Her paper was also entered in the national contest.

Margaret Corbitt, a freshman, won first place in the state in the Current Events division of the National High School Awards sponsored by twelve leading magazines. Her essay was entitled "Why My State Is Famous."

CENTRAL HIGH SCHOOL

CENTRAL

It's more than just a building, girls!
This school we love so well;
Of countless tales of honors won,
This school of ours could tell.

It's more than just a building, girls!
Proud shall we ever be
Of thy great name, old Central High,
That's dear to you and me.

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

1927-28

In 1927 we entered the halls of Central as Freshies with big feelings and joyous anticipation.

Our basketball team won third place in the interclass tournament by defeating the Sophs.

1928-29

We started our sophomore year with just as much vim and vigor as we displayed as Freshies. Early in the year we sponsored the most successful candy sale ever held at Central.

As first organizers of the T. C. Club we upheld its ideals. The crowning achievement of this year was the winning of the basketball championship by defeating the Seniors 10-9.

1929-30

Realizing our importance, we first proved our ability as Juniors by having a goodly number on each Honor Roll.

The Dramatic Club, under the able direction of Catherine Connolly, Nora Brouilette, Mae Mulholland and Norma Johnson, displayed its talent in the various fields of entertainment.

Our Prom, held April 25, was just as successful as it was spectacular.

The basketball quintet were champs for the second consecutive year, downing the Seniors 14-5.

1930-31

Our Senior year was just one success after another. Both Centralite drives were successful.

Those winning honors in the Quill and Scroll contests were: Irene Harrington, first place in Montana, and Mary Lee, sixth place in the nation. Several others received honorable mention.

Fourteen members of the Centralite staff were admitted into the Quill and Scroll Society.

Our school paper won third place in the Columbia Scholastic Press Association Contest, and other honors.

Catherine Duggan was elected our cheerleader, and she certainly proved to be a peppy one at all the games.

CLASS WILL

We, the members of the Senior Class of nineteen hundred and thirty-one of the Girls' Central High School, located on the richest hill on earth of the Treasure State, being in good health of body and of sound mind, and not acting under the penalty of death, injury or physical pain, do make, publish, and declare this to be our Last Will and Testament:

To our Alma Mater, we leave hopes that we are the last class to gradnate from this antique but famous building.

To our teachers, we give our highest esteem for the patience and co-operation shown us in all our school activities.

To the Freshies, our art of note writing.

To the Sophomores, we bestow our ability, vim, and brilliance to become what we are—You'll need something, Sophs.

To the Juniors, we leave our love and right to sit in the front section at our few but cherished assemblies.

To the Principal, we bequeath our sincere wishes, and we pledge our support for a new school.

Mary McGonigle leaves her gift of gab to a Freshie gossiper—Show your speed, Freshie.

Catherine Connolly bequeathes her superior intelligence to Bonita Watson.

Colette D. wills her "Mistakes" to the best alto vocalist in the Glee Club.

Margaret Murray bequeathes her ability to blush to H. McKeown.

Dote O'Neil bestows her gurgling laugh on P. Oaas.

Elizabeth Coburn leaves the key to the press and its privileges to C. Leary.

Rose Roe bequeathes her acting ability to J. O'Connell.

Kathryn Duggan wills her monogram sweater to C. Gallagher.

Irene Harrington leaves her ability to hold offices to Marie Anderson.

Marg. Kendrigan wills her position as Star Forward to E. Reilly.

June McKeown leaves her driver's license to Sadie Fearon—Get your "kiddy" car.

Marie McMillan gives her carmine colored lipstick to Mary O'Neil. Hope she uses it as artistically.

We do nominate and appoint Father Time to be the Executor of this, our last Will and Testament.

In testimony, whereof, we, the said Seniors of '31 have to this, our last will and testament, subscribed our names, and affixed our seal, this second day of June in the year of Our Lord one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one.

CLASS PROPHECY

While walking down the street I heard a call;
"Come one, come all, gaze into the crystal ball."
Well, maybe it's true, and I started to run
In hope of a view of the class of '31.
"Ah," I shouted, "it's true, it's true,"
As familiar figures loomed into view.
I saw Esther and Collette down on the farm
Displaying their well-known musical charm.
Lucille and LaVerne own a beauty shop.
And K. Duggan there wields a heavy mop.
Corr and Carty have crashed the movies.
King and McFadden are famous beauties.
The Roach, Murray, and Kendrigan trio
Are on the stage dancing to "O Solo Mio."
As a chef J. McKeown makes excellent gravy,
To help Vonee feed the hungry navy.
Marie McMillan has put aside all fun,
With M. Mulholland a hospital she'll run.
Rafferty and M. Reilly, while rowing on a lake,
Tipped the boat and met their fate.
Caddy Johnson, now dances in a cabaret,
While brilliant Norma feeds horses hay.
Kate Connolly, well known as a teacher stern,
Makes Nora Brouillette's children learn.
Rosie Roe and Dote, two hoboes yet,
Lost all their money on a horse race bet.
Kathleen and Pony, two good dieticians,
Have discovered a way to reduce musicians.
Irene Harrington runs a home for old maids,
And there the fair Catherine O'Donnell stays.
Peg Monahan, now a millionaire's wife,
Says she's leading a wonderful life.
Mary Lee, a missioner far, far away,
Is converting her thousands day by day.
Aud. and Monica, in Lane's Jazz Band play,
While Liz and Tan dance the hours away.
Florence Kelly is a great tennis champ,
And H. Meade is the world's most famous vamp.
Lois Sullivan, who dances in a show,
Keeps press agent, McGowan, on the go.
With the circus that left town one day,
M. Kelly and M. Shea rode far, far away.
Toots Phillips, the best ad getter of all ages,
On McGonigle's paper now earns her wages.
Helen Lavelle, a spinster, hung a sign
On her door, "Singing lessons any time."
Now that I knew about all, I was full of joy,
And the old slang phrase I shouted, "Oh, boy."
A peppy crowd and full of fun
Was the dear old class of '31.

H. LAVELLE

MOTHER

If I were a poet, a weaver of dreams,
I would weave a sweet story for my queen of queens;
If I were a painter, a master of art,
I would paint a great picture for you, sweetheart;
If I were a singer, a maker of song,
I would sing a sweet theme to you, I've loved long;
But since I can't claim these talents so rare,
And must be content with the wish and the prayer,
I can only say in my own simple way
How I love you dear Mother, my life's brightest ray.

Mother's Day Poetry Contest

Each year in May the Centralite Staff conducts a Mother's Day poetry contest in the school . The students put their best efforts into the work, and many excellent poems are submitted. In the 1930 contest "Mother" by Helen Lavelle and "To a Departed Mother" by Marie Riley were the winners.

To a Departed Mother

M. RILEY

Mother, I did not know, before you went away,
There were so many hours in the day;
And that the night, so desolately drear
And full of loneliness, would seem a year.

Mother, I did not know the winds were quite so strong,
The winds that tore the blossom from the bough;
Nor that the rain could sing so sad a song,
The whole night long; but, oh I know it now.

DEAR CENTRAL HIGH
(Tune—"Jennie Lee")

Dear Central High,
We'll say good-bye to you;
We always will be true;
You know that, too.
Each memory
Of days we spent with thee
In our hearts' treasury
Will always be.
Better friends, I know, we'll never meet;
No other days will ever be so sweet.
May your proud name
Attain still greater fame.
Our love you'll ever claim
Dear Central High.

The Richest Hill On Earth

BUTTE

In the mountains nestled high
With snowy peaks against the sky,
Is Butte, the gem of the Treasure State,
Whose fame as the "richest hill" is great.
The barren hilsides near the town,
With timber long since hewn down,
Tell the story often told
Of man's persistent search for gold.
In the hills where Indians roamed in bands,
Butte, a thriving city, stands.

ATHLETES

OUR RAH! RAH! GIRL

KATHRYN DUGGAN

In October, Kathryn Duggan, a member of class '31, was elected school cheer-leader for '30 and '31. At all of the athletic events of the year she was ready with her well-organized section to root for the Maroon and White.

Her pep and enthusiasm entitled her to a white sweater with a maroon megaphone, which was presented by the B. C. Monogram Club.

"Kay" was one of the best yell leaders ever chosen to represent Central. She deserves high praise for the excellent showing she made at all games.

CLASS CHEER LEADERS

Two girls were elected from each class to lead the cheering sections during the interclass tournament.

Each girl endeavored to make her section the peppiest at the games, and to cheer her team on to victory. Defeat did not dampen the spirit of any of the girls and loyalty and good sportsmanship prevailed throughout the tourney. The '31 group of yell leaders will be remembered as one of the best elected.

McFadden Leyden Feeney McKeown Duggan Roe Rogers Walsh

GYM ACTIVITIES

Pep, vigor and good sportsmanship were the outstanding characteristics of this year's athletic activities.

More participants and better trained athletes made all competition keen. The basketball tournament was the snappiest ever. The baseball league was large and the track meet was featured by the best of sportsmanship. A great deal of interest was also shown in the swimming classes.

Lawrence Manion, athletic instructor, deserves much credit for the progress the girls have made in physical education.

LAWRENCE MANION

THE FRESHMAN GYM CLASS

Physical education became a part of the Freshman course this year. Classes were held at the K. of C. gymnasium twice a week under the direction of Lawrence Manion. The work proved interesting and profitable to the girls.

Selected groups made a public appearance between acts of the Operetta on March 10 and at the Commencement exercises.

SENIOR BASKETBALL TEAM

The "Maroon Maidens" regretfully close a very brilliant basketball career. Irene Harrington was captain, when as "Evergreens" we upset the dope by defeating the "Wise Fools". In our Sophomore year Margaret Kendrigan led us to victory over the Seniors.

Under the leadership of June McKeown, as Juniors, we continued our fighting spirit and took the "high and mighties" into camp to the tune of 4 to 5. We showed good judgment in electing Margaret Roach as our captain for our final hoop season. In our last game we shaded our opponents 4 to 5.

Rain or snow, hail or sleet,
We're the team that's hard to beat,
We're the best in all creation:
We're the Senior delegation.
Yea, Seniors!

Row—de—dow—dow!
Row—de—dow—dow!
C'mon, Seniors, show 'em how!

Kendrigan, forward; Murray, guard; Brooke, guard; Roach, center (c); McKeown, guard; Harrington, forward; Sullivan, sub.

JUNIOR BASKETBALL TEAM

Although they haven't been successful enough to cop a championship during their three years of playing, the "Red and White" have made a great showing for their class. They were by no means an easy mark for their opponents.

They reached the finals this year but were defeated in a fast game with the Seniors by a score of 5 to 4. Helen McGonigle was chosen as captain for '31 and led them through their most marked year. They have high hopes for the '32 tournament.

Julius Caesar, Cicero dear,
We're the team that has no fear!
We may be rough, we may be tough,
But we're the team that knows our stuff.
Yea, Juniors!

Rin—tin—tin
Rin—tin—tin
Yea, Juniors, you can win!

Watson, forward; McCarty, guard; Sullivan, center. McGonigle, guard (c); McKeown, forward; Gilmore, sub.; Anderson, sub.

SOPHOMORE BASKETBALL TEAM

"Blue and White" meant a great deal to the second year lassies this season. They were out to win if they could prove themselves strong enough for their opponents. Bowing before the onrush of the first year team did not make them lose faith. They played with the same spirit and vigor that they had used before. It worked; they gained fourth place in the inter-class.

The Sophs are eagerly awaiting the next tournament so that they may win a higher and more noted position.

Kandy, handy, dandy Pete,
Central Hi is where we meet;
Hep, hep, lots of pep,
We're the Sophomores.
Watch our rep!

Hobble, gobble, razzle, dazzle!
Sis, boom, bah!
Sophs! Sophs! rah! rah!

Coyne, sub.; Gallivan, forward; Shepperd, guard; Shea, guard; Mulholland, center; Thiveridge, forward; McFadden, sub.

FRESHMAN BASKETBALL TEAM

With a pep unexcelled by any other competing team, the Frosh made their debut in the high school basketball league. Fairly large for a beginners' team, they entered each game with the determination to win.

They succeeded in bringing the Sophs down to their level in the hoop world. Cecilia Nankeville was chosen as captain for the green ones, and they didn't make such a bad showing. We look for bigger and better things from this team later.

Gold, Silver, Copper;
Who's gonna stop her?
Dressed in green,
That's our team,
'Yea, Freshies!

Tin can, you can, we can.
Sophs did, you did, we did.
What? Win! ! !

Tansey, sub.; Shea, guard; Nankeville, guard (c); Kearney, forward; McNulty, center; Adlard, sub.; Thomas, forward; Sullivan, guard; Coyne, sub.

CHAMPIONS

NANKEVILLE KENDRIGAN McKEOWN GILMORE

June McKeown, ever since her sophomore year has been high-point man at the track meet, which is held at Clark Park in the latter part of May of each year. Last year, due to her excellent jumping and running, the Juniors were able to cop the trophy.

In February, at the K. of C. gym, a Squash Tourney was held. Over fifty girls participated. There were two classes, the experienced and inexperienced. Margaret Kendrigan copped the title of the experienced, while Dorothy Gilmore won the honor of the inexperienced division.

Last, but not least, comes the champion of the skating carnival, Cecilia Nankeville. Cecilia captured third place in the individual race. She competed against contestants from Anaconda High School, Butte High School and others from Central.

THE SAFE WAY

Is Always the Best

Growing children require good, nourishing foods. In all of our stores we stock only the purest and finest goods that money can buy. Our immense purchases enable us to buy at advantageous prices. We pass this on to our hundreds of thousands of customers. Therefore as well as being the SAFEWAY it is also the SAVE WAY when you buy groceries at the
